

Writing Progression Overview

Intent

At Brabourne CEP School, we want our pupils to become competent, confident, creative and independent in their use of written language. To achieve this, we make links to other areas of learning, e.g. phonics, reading, spelling, grammar, vocabulary and handwriting. We intend for our pupils to form, articulate and communicate ideas, and then organise them coherently for the reader. Through showing an awareness of the audience, purpose and context, and an increasingly wide knowledge of vocabulary and grammar across curriculum subjects, we want our pupils to apply these skills to become life-long, confident writers.

At Brabourne CEP School, we believe that writing is a key skill for life both inside and out of education and that is why it features throughout all the subjects taught across our school. Our aim is to provide children with key transferable writing skills to build on year on year, that can be used throughout each phase of their education and prepare them for secondary school. Teaching children to write for a range of purposes and audiences can be very exciting, especially here at Brabourne, where we provide children with a range of engaging hooks to capture their imagination. We aim to provide the children with varied reasons for writing and believe that this not only produces higher quality writing, but allows our learners to apply their skills to a range of different contexts, producing authentic outcomes.

Oracy is prioritised in our writing curriculum in order to build vocabulary and structures for all learners and increase understanding of texts used across our curriculum. Discussion, questioning and studying reading texts all support understanding of language and prepare our children with the tools they need in order to be successful in their writing. Our aim is for ALL learners to achieve their full potential in writing and we are committed to providing the scaffolds and challenge needed in order for our children to achieve this.

We have developed a curriculum that gives pupils real reasons to write, whether to retell, re-imagine, explain, persuade, inform or instruct. As with reading, writing is not an isolated and stand-alone area of learning. Skills learnt within writing, are applied to all areas of the curriculum. We want our pupils to be enabled to become writers in all future areas of their lives.

Implementation

With the implementation of a cohesive and progressive medium and long-term planning document for writing, by the end of key stage 2 children have developed a writer's craft and can manipulate language, grammar and punctuation to create effect. Children receive daily English lessons are exposed to a range of high quality texts, such as the CLPE's Power of Reading recommendations. Writing and reading are closely linked and we ensure that reading is at the core of our English curriculum, in order to build on pupils' knowledge of different genres of writing and develop their vocabulary. Teachers at Brabourne demonstrate high quality modelling within each English lesson and encourage children to include key vocabulary (linked to their Topic), structure their work appropriately into coherent paragraphs and use the grammatical skills and punctuation taught at their year group level. Whole class brainstorming, modelling and sharing of rich vocabulary and structures help scaffold learning in writing. Daily and weekly phonics, spelling, handwriting and EGPS lessons feed into pupils' skills and knowledge in writing.

At Brabourne CEP School, our intention is to develop writing as a transferable skill across all subjects taught in the curriculum. We therefore immerse children in a termly History/Geography themed topic and encourage cross-curricular links. Children are expected to transfer their key topic knowledge and vocabulary into their writing and vice versa to transfer their spelling, grammar and punctuation knowledge into their topic work. We expect the high standards for writing in English lessons to be evident within the work in all books. Termly Curriculum Writes take place to ensure that writing is prioritised in subjects across the curriculum.

We ensure that children are aware of their strengths and areas for development in writing so that learners can take ownership of their progress. Teachers leave next steps in books and verbally when feeding back to ensure that children know exactly what they need to do next to make progress in their writing and children are encouraged to respond or engage verbally with this. We ensure that ALL learners are given next steps and that scaffolds and challenges are put in place for those children working below or above age-related outcomes. Children who are identified as not achieving age-related outcomes and/or those on the SEN register may be assessed against the outcomes for the year group below. Interventions/support may be put in place in order to accelerate writing skills in this case. The nature of the intervention will be decided by the teacher and the SENDCO. Support in class may include small group work with an adult during lessons to model key skills, scaffolds created by the teacher to assist with completion of work, pre-learnt vocabulary and word banks/sentence openers provided to assist the child when writing.

Key Principles of Writing at Brabourne

1. Writing takes place daily and high-quality, creative writing is valued across all subjects. Writing is displayed and celebrated around the school.
2. Extended Curriculum Writes take place termly, across subjects other than English, to raise the profile of writing in all subjects.
3. We recognise the importance of the link between reading and writing and promote quality, daily reading in a variety of forms.
4. We use the 'CLPE Power of Reading' planning as a framework for our literacy medium-term planning, whilst enhancing the framework with further planned opportunities for 'stamina' extended writing. High quality texts are chosen for all pupils to access and be exposed to high quality writing, as well as 'hook' their interest.
5. Each new unit begins with a background focus on the author of the selected quality text, to broaden the pupils' knowledge of key authors.
6. Prior knowledge and skills are integrated into each lesson, with a recap of knowledge/skills studied in previous year groups and previous lessons.
7. Working walls are employed by teachers as an 'aide-memoire', over the course of a unit of study, to record modelling of writing and vocabulary. Key vocabulary is displayed and 'fluid' vocabulary walls are used in each class. Displays are used to celebrate pupil achievement in writing.

8. A range of writing genres are modelled and taught. These include: fiction, poetry and non-fiction.
9. Fiction, non-fiction and poetry concepts threads form a spiral curriculum and are built upon and revisited each year. Teachers recap prior knowledge of key concepts and plan and identify key knowledge and skills from our genre progression grid.
10. Stimuli for writing, including whole school writing focuses, are used to 'hook' pupils' interest and foster their imagination.
11. The key concepts of Transcription (spelling & handwriting) and Composition (articulating ideas and structuring them through speech and writing) form the core of our writing programme.

Handwriting

13. Letter formation is taught from the moment that children join us in reception. It is paramount that children are rigorously taught correct letter formation from the very beginning of their time in school. During the foundation stage at Brabourne CEP School, the children are taught to sit properly in order to have the correct posture for writing, hold a pencil in the correct position and develop legible letter formation. From KS1, the school adopts a cursive handwriting style. A high standard of joined, cursive handwriting is then modelled from Year 2 and children are encouraged to imitate this. Handwriting is taught and practised regularly in separate books but is expected to be evidenced throughout all work produced. Children are encouraged to take pride in their work and presentation and final pieces. In Key Stage 2 pupils draft their work and copy up final pieces in their Curriculum Writing books. Teachers ensure fidelity to the cursive style in all written activities. Handwriting practice takes place regularly throughout the week. IN EYFS and KS1 this takes place daily, practising letter formation, the dough disco programme and practising handwriting and spellings. In LKS2, this takes place through bi-weekly modelling, spelling and sentence practice. In UKS2, expectations for handwriting form part of all writing practice. Interventions are put in place for any pupils who need further practice.

EGPS

14. EGPS is taught in discrete and progressive weekly lessons; purposeful recalls and revisiting are made during English lessons and in feedback given to pupils on their writing. IN KS1, this takes place 2 days a week, plus 'top ups'. In KS2, this takes place weekly, plus 'top ups' twice a week.

Planning

15. Teaching follows a progressive sequence outlined in our English curriculum documents and builds cumulatively on the skills and knowledge from previous phases. Teachers make explicit links to prior and future learning, so that children understand how they will develop towards targets and endpoints.
16. Vertical planning outlines a two-year cycle for writing, reading and EGPS, which details reading texts and content to be taught.
17. Horizontal planning, which is completed termly, outlines termly milestones for composition and EGPS, which contribute towards the end of year end points. These milestones are tracked against our progression grid to ensure full coverage.

Assessment

18. Pupils are made aware of their progress and next steps through the ticking of Learning Objectives achieved and constructive feedback, both verbally and in writing.
19. Assessment in writing takes place using the school's assessment criteria. Work is moderated internally in staff meetings and externally with the CARE FT and County moderation.

SEND

20. The lowest 20% of each year group, Send and vulnerable groups, are tracked through termly provision mapping and pupil progress reviews. Other key groups are targeted through intervention to ensure they are progressing in line with their previous key stage starting points.

Spelling

21. Teaching of spelling patterns follows the progression outlined in the 'Twinkl' phonics programme, which teachers deliver daily with fidelity. Phonics tracking is ongoing and is collected by the English lead once a term. Once the children have completed their phonics learning, they continue onto the 'Twinkl' spelling and EGPS scheme. Through exploring spelling patterns and rules, we aim to create confident and proficient spellers using a discrete teaching approach underpinned by phonics. Children are also taught to: spell accurately and identify reasons for mis-spellings, proof-read their spellings, recognise and use word origins, families and roots to build their skills, use dictionaries and thesauruses.
22. New spelling rules/patterns or words from the statutory word list are taught across the Key stages in discrete spelling sessions (taken from Twinkl Spellings), before being sent home and assigned online for practice and testing. Spellings are taught daily in KS1. In KS2, they are taught weekly, with reinforcements throughout the week. Spelling results are tracked by the teachers and further reinforcement is put into place where needed.

Teaching

23. We recognise that the teaching of writing takes many forms. These include: Modelled Writing (where the adult models the writing process, explicitly teaching writing behaviours), Shared Writing (where the adult models the writing process with input from pupils – the writing is co-constructed), Guided Writing (the adult guides key aspects of the writing process, appropriate to the needs of the pupil group – this may include elements of modelling and/or shared writing) and Independent Writing (pupils write independently of the adults, applying their knowledge to their writing – this may be done individually or in pairs/groups).
24. We understand that developing talk is the first step to language comprehension. We create a language rich environment through: back and forth interactions; questioning; modelling spoken language and grammar; use of word/vocabulary fields; and partner talk. Oral rehearsal and editing of phrases, clauses and sentences is taught and modelled at all stages to allow children to consider and evaluate their ideas before committing them to the page
25. Lessons build cumulatively towards an extended piece of writing, where children carefully plan, write, edit and publish their work, which is used for assessment. 'Authentic outcomes' are used to motivate pupils to write for purpose. Writing is celebrated through rewards, certificates and displays.
26. Teachers employ a range of strategies to support writing. These include mnemonics such as MAPOS and the Writing Rainbow. Pupils are involved in their own target setting using the Writing Rainbow.
27. Opportunities for sharing writing aloud are provided during plenaries, and children are taught and supported to use appropriate techniques to gain, maintain and monitor the interest of the listener(s).

28. End points:

By the end of EYFS children will:

- Be able to write recognisable letters, most of which are correctly formed.
- Be able to spell words by identifying sounds in them and representing the sounds with a letter or letters.
- Be able to write simple phrases and sentences that can be read by others.
- Show good control and co-ordination in their small movements.
- Handle equipment and tools effectively, including pencils for writing.

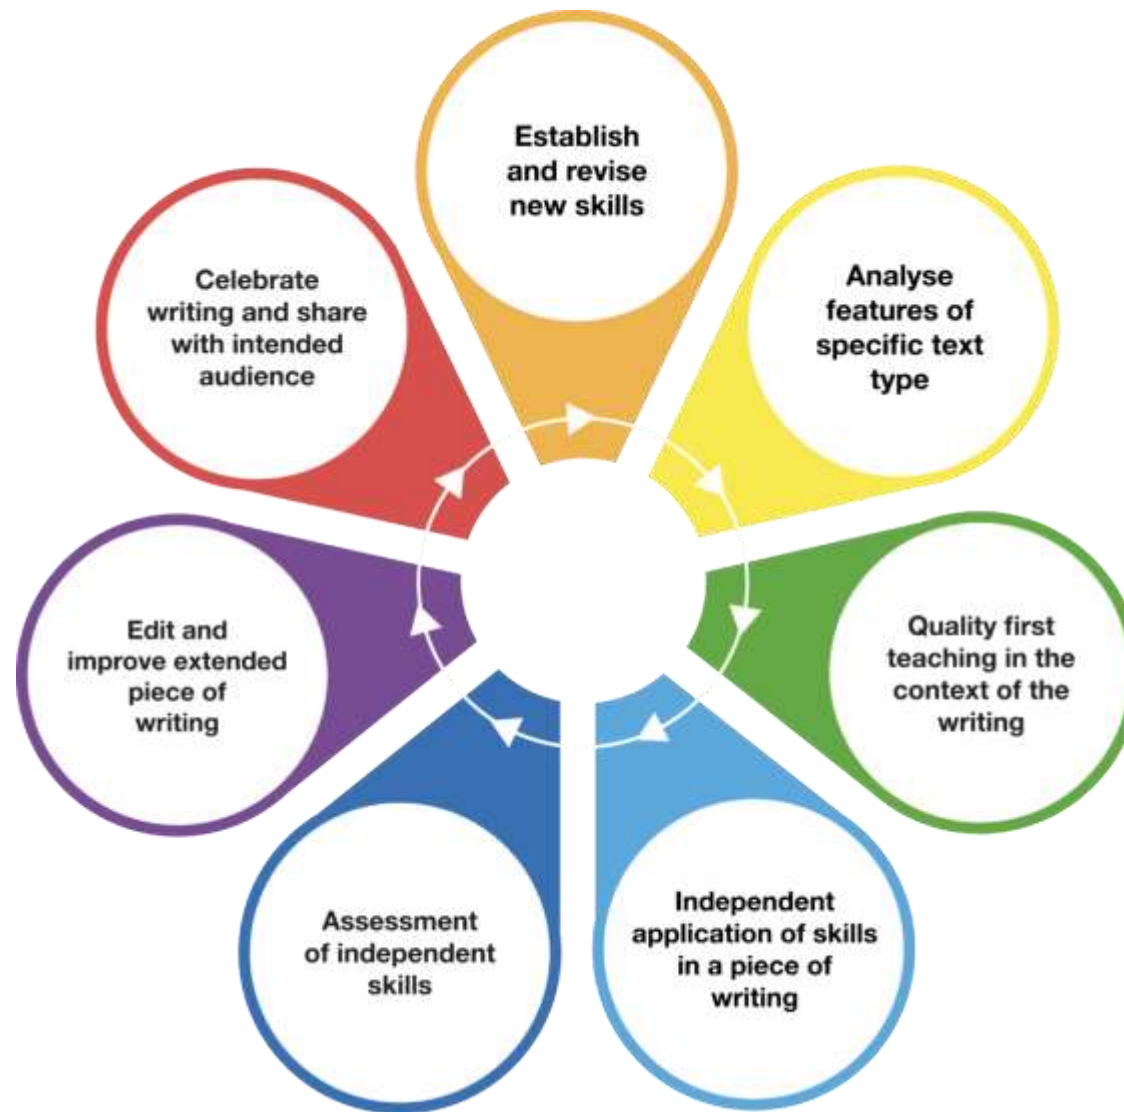

By the end of Key Stage 1 children will:

- Be able to write narratives, both real and fictional.
- Be able to write using past and present tense mostly correctly and consistently.
- Be able to demarcate sentences using capital letters, full stops and question marks mostly accurately. Spell most common exception words correctly.
- Show consistency in letter sizing.

By the end of Key Stage 2 children will:

- Be able to reflect their understanding of the audience for and purpose of their writing by selecting appropriate vocabulary and grammar.
- Be able to consciously control sentence structure in their writing and understand why sentences are constructed, using a range of devices to build cohesion within and across paragraphs.
- Use a range of punctuation and maintain tense throughout a piece of writing, spelling most words correctly, or being able to use resources quickly and efficiently in order to support spelling.
- Be able to consistently join their handwriting.
- Understand nuances in vocabulary choice and age-appropriate, academic vocabulary.

Impact

The impact of our curriculum is evident in pupil participation in English lessons and in their books. As all aspects of English are an integral part of the wider curriculum, cross curricular writing standards have also improved and skills taught in the English lesson are transferred into other subjects. Teachers use assessment as an integral part of the teaching and learning process and link it clearly to the children's next steps. Teachers record and track each child's progress and use summative assessment 3 times a year to set future targets. Children are tested regularly on spelling, grammar and punctuation knowledge and this data is used to inform next steps for writing. Teachers use our writing assessment grids to assess writing and identify the pupils' next steps. Moderation of writing takes place throughout the year as staff, within the CARE group and also with wider Ashford schools. Progress is reported to parents three times a year. Progress across classes is closely monitored by the subject leader and senior leadership team. Monitoring will include: regular book looks, lesson observations, gathering evidence of good practice, pupil voice interviews, looking at data and regular learning walks. The findings of this monitoring are used to inform next steps for the children and the implementation of writing across the school as a whole.
